Keep Shining

Every girl has a "just left the salon" strut. Of course, upon washing that glowing hair, locks go back to their original state, and strutting turns into a shuffle. How does one keep that fresh-from-the-hairdresser glow? Bella Bethesda salon (4733 Elm St.; 301-718-9111) has a shining solution. Its new treatment, CELLOPHANES BY SEBASTIAN, is said to be "lip gloss for the hair." The soy protein-infused goop is coiled on; after a 20-minute stint in a heater and a blow-dry, voila! And this treatment actually seems to work. Gloss-wise, it's Bobbie Brown compared to Lip Smackers. Until the end of July, Bella Bethesda is offering a special on the shiny stuff. The Cellophanes treatment and a blow-dry are $50 or $20 without the blow-dry. ROBYN MINCHER
