

Matching dos and drives celebrate Bella Bethesda's first year

November 7, 5:13 PM

by Kate Michael, Events and Society Editor

Does your Tahoe match your tresses? Bella Bethesda suggests that one's 'look' is comprehensive - from head to heels, and even under the hood.

To celebrate the salon's first anniversary, Bella Bethesda put on an extensive hair fashion runway show with support from sponsors Chevy Chase Cars and Phyto hair products. Loyal customer models walked the runway with dos ranging from Sporty to Sexy and Green to Glam. Each of nine custom styles corresponded to a beauty station in the showroom which coupled the look and its styling products to a set of Chevy wheels.

The night was a 'dream come true' for Bella co-owners Stacey Dabney Ramirez and Lindsay Dabney Benitez. The pair convinced Chevy Chase Cars to host "Cars, Curls and Cocktails" and certainly brought in more customers than expected to a car dealership in these times of petrol sensitivity. The popularity of the event spoke to Bella Bethesda's success in styling and customer service in its first year.

Whether it's the Corvette or the Malibu which matches your mane, this salon went from 0 to 60 in no time at all.

Bella Bethesda Salon: 4733 Elm Street, Bethesda, MD

Kate Michael

D.C. Events and Society Examiner

Political staffer by day, socialite by night. Even before she was Miss DC (2006), Kate Michael was active on the social and charitable scene in the city. Check here often for community and philanthropic event coverage - and if you just can't get enough, follow her on her personal blog at www.KStreetKate.net. Send topic suggestions to: kate@kstreetkate.net.