Thursday at 6 p.m., the Kennedy Center presents a free fashion show by Tony Award-nominated Japanese designer Junko Koshino. Part of the "Japan! Culture + Hyperculture" festival, the looks in the show come from Koshino's fall 2006 collection. Kennedy Center Millennium Stage, 2700 F St. NW. 202-467-4600.

Thursday and Friday starting at 10 a.m., buy tickets for the next round of the District Sample Sale, which is scheduled for March 4. (That may seem far off, but the event sells out quickly, and there will be no tickets at the door.) On Thursday, VIP ($100) and Benefactress tickets ($250) go on sale; on Friday, general admission tickets are up for grabs at $50 each. Tickets will be available at www.districtsamplesale.com.

Bella Bethesda Salon is hosting a week-long campaign to benefit Locks of Love, which provides hairpieces to children with medical hair loss. Donate 10 or more inches of hair and you'll receive a free haircut and blow-dry, plus a gift certificate for a makeup session. Ten percent of all product sales go to Locks of Love. Friday through Feb. 15. 4733 Elm St., Bethesda. For an appointment, call 301-718-9111.
